THE FAMOUS PIANIST PLAYS WONDERFULLY.

His Recital at Carnegie Hall a Repetition of Old Scenes Long Pamiliar-His Playing Even More Beautiful Than It Was When He Made His Last Visit Here.

Ignace Pederewski, the great planist, gave his only recital of the present season in this city at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon. The programme consisted of Schumann's "Fantasia" in C major, opus 17; his "Toccata," Beethoven's sonata in C sharp minor, opus 27, No. 2; the Brahms variations on a theme by Paganini, opus 85, and a Chopin group embracing the G minor ballads, three études, opus 10, Nos. 12, 7 and 3; the B minor mazurka, the B major nocturne and the C sharp minor

Of course he was compelled to make additions to his list, for the scenes familiar | fer. at all his recitals in this city for years were repeated. The audience was one which quite filled the house. About three hundred persons were seated on a platform on the stage, where they looked like a silent | sha

There were no standers at the rear of the orchestra. The manager was not permitted to sell tickets for this space. Otherwise the audience would have been even larger. Speculators asked from $10 to $15 | spi for orchestra seats and $2.50 for gallery tickets. Apparently every seat in the house was occupied. The audience listened with rapt attention while Mr. Paderewski played in the subdued light which be loves, and the applause was at all times of the most enthusiastic sort.
At the conclusion of the programme people rushed down the aisles in the old way and stood close to the stage while the pianist played his encore numbers. The first two were the A flat polonaise and the A flat valse of Chopin. After these the chronicler of this history, being surfeited with moonlight music bred in melancholy and nurtured in madness, flitted into the silver sunshine of Seventh avenue.

When Mr. Paderewski was last here he occasionally forced the tone of his instrument, and sometimes made the wires rattle. Some of the newspapers in other cities have asserted that he did this in the course of the present tour. Nothing of the sort was noticeable yesterday. There was abundant power, and some bursts of 'the nic thunder, but it was all true piano ton', not noise. Mr. Paderewski's piano playing is now at its zenith. It is a full, opulent, well rounded and thoroughly sane art.

There is no trace of morbidity or eccentricity in it. Fanciful young women doubtless find evidences of what they regard as Chopinesque decadency in some of his readings, but the decadent elements are in their own infantile mindes. Mr. Paderewski's art is masterful and masculine. It has the ment, and sometimes made the wires rattle.

their own infantile minds. Mr. Paderewski's art is masterful and masculine. It has the poise, the authority, the strength and the reserve of large manhood.

This is the playing of a master. Proclamations that this or that interpretation is deficient in some respect, that the Beethoven is underdone or the Schumann overdone carry but little weight in the presence of a style which is the acme of piano singing. It is possible for the metaphysically inclined to split hairs about some : a lings, for there is always room for a discussion of the whole intent of any composer.

But one thing is beyond all dispute, and the is that Mr. Paderewski and the piano belong to one another. The man is the complete master of the instrument; it serves him buoyantly, confidingly, lovingly.

serves him buoyantly, confidingly, lovingly, It has no secret from him. There is no winning accent in its wonderful voice that he cannot coax forth. It yields itself up to him with the luxurious satisfaction of one to him with the luxurious satisfaction of one beloved.

Playing thus, he always fills the world about him with beauty. Such a performance as he gave that Chopin group yesterday is not often the happy lot of mortals to hear. It was everything that Chopin interpretation could be, infinite in the variety and gradation of its tonal tints, sweeping from celestial thunders to fairy whispers in its dynamic range, exquisite in tenderness, poetic in passion, commanding in moments of temperamental rage and always balanced in the palm of a perfect artistic grasp.

The uttermost refinement of mournful sweetness was reached in the nocturns, in which the chromatics were played with a smoothness, a velvety tone and a homogeneity simply marvellous. The scherze was magnificent and the other numbers beautiful.

But let there be no misunderstanding.

Mr. Paderewski played his entire programme wonderfully. The least satisfying portions of it were the two virtuoso pieces, the Brahms variations and the Schumann toccats.

Neither of these works brings to the frost the finest qualities of this player's art. He does more for the compositions than they do for him. His technic has gained something in swiftness, certainty and pliability since we last heard him, and these compositions enabled him to display these traits. But it was more interesting to hear him in the fantasia and the sonata.

The fantasia is one of his old loves and he has never played it with greater breadth of style or with more touching sentiment in the last movement than he did yesterday.

His reading of the sonata was beautiful in His reading of the sonata was beautiful in every respect. It was perfect in spirit, continent yet rich in tone and exquisitely finished in all its details. It is a pity that this master of the piane is not to be heard oftener this season. Perhaps his friends can prevail upon him to give another recital. His performances are a public benefit.

TEACHERS COLLEGE PLAY

Planned to Rebuke Columbia Arrogance -French Drama Coming. Too. The girls of Whittier Hall, the Teachers

College dormitory, will give a play tomorrow evening, and it is announced as a satire simed at Columbia men. The proceeds of the show will be devoted to the George Junior Republic. The posters say that a "Whiff From Whittier, stronger than 'Strongheart,' more wooed than the 'College Widow'—a college play," will be given in the Horace Mann Auditorium. Furthermore, Columbia men and others are invited to attend. The play is in two acts, and is a revision of a Radcliffe College play directed against Harvard students. The cast will be:

Madge Apthorpe, a college girl. Evelyn Goldsmith.
Jean, her coandante. Della Louise Conger.
Fdith
Eleanor
Carrie Classmates Myrtle Beneway.
Gary of Madge.
Kate Apthorpe Mrs. Apthorpe. Mrs. Apthorpe. Mrs. Brooke.
Grace Apthorpe. Edna Moore.
Agatha Meade, a girl not in

The girls have been coached by one of the hall residents, Miss Caroline T. Newcomb, who is a Wellesley graduate and something of an actress. Miss Newcomb has been taking time away from an engagement with Miss Wycherley to coach the Teacher College actresses.

Teachers College actresses.

The French societies of Columbia and Barnard Colleges will give the play "Le Médecin Malgré Lui" on Friday evening. March 31, and on the afternoon of April 1, in the Frinckerhoff Theatre, Bernard Col-

GUSY DAYS AT, THE GARDEN.

The Circus Drawing Big Crowds at the Matinee and Night Performances.

The circus season is well under way again and the Garden is filled twice a day. The feat of Mile. de Tiers in *looping the gap" in an auto is, of course, the great thriller, but the work of the Ansillotti brothers in "looping the quadruple chasms" is a close second.

novelty this year is the tally-ho racing of the Lis Cusson troupe with its accompany-ing acrobatic work. The advance sales for the remaining weeks of the show are said to be unusually heavy.

Le Boutillier Brothers

ADVANCE SALE OF

Fine Foreign Hosiery.

We have just received from two of the most reliable manufacturers in the world invoices of many thousand pairs of the celebrated "Rock Dye" Hostery for Men, Women and Children. The slockings were made for us of specially selected Egyptian yarn, and every pair is fully guaranteed.

Women's Black 'Rock bye' allower lace Liste fread Hose; assorted pat- erns; value 50c.,	Women's English (Mor- ley's) Lace Lisle Thread Hose, plain or silk embroid- ered; value $1.00 and $1.25
Women's Liste Thread lain Black or new Tan hades "Rock Dye" Hose; value 40c.,	Women's Fancy self- striped Veiling Lisle Thread Hose, White, Cadet, Green or Red; value 75c.,
Women's gause Liste Thread Hose, with garter plicing and double soles, in Black "Rock Dye;" palue 50c.,	Men's Lisle Thread "Rock Dye" Half Hose, Black, new Tans or Cadets; value 40c.,
Women's fine Liste Thread Hose, plain or lace nkles, in White, Cham-	Children's fine ribbed Cotton Hose, double knees, Black "Rock Dye," Tans

This sale of standard goods at decided concessions in prices affords an unusual opportunity to users of high grade Hostery.

and White,

Le Boutillier Brothers West Twenty-third Street.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT TOWN.

pagne, Tan, Cadet, Navy,

Gray or Red; value 50c.,

The police, fire and health departments have all been very active this season in keeping the number of admission tickets sold at theatres down to the limit. At the Metropolitan Opera House they were especially active, for they seemed to entertain a suspicion that Mr. Conried would not be loth to admit at times a few more standees than the law allowed. One night, when the doors at the rear of the auditorium seemed about ready to hulge with the crowd, Fire Commissioner Hayes appeared at the entrance and requested permission to enter the house.

"No, no!" exclaimed Mr. Conried, with trepidation in every tone; "if you should enter the house, you would be one more than the limit and I should have to surrender myself to the police."

They were discussing symphony music at a famous Bowery restaurant the other

"In high class music you always hear 'em talkin' about the theme," said one. "What's the theme of a piece, Barney?"

"Why, the theme, John, is a bit o' tune that they all take turns fiddlin' around with, tryin' to find out where it belongs. Then, when some one finally gets the right place for it, the whole bunch of 'em lend a hand at helpin' to drive it in."

"When subway trains came together at Twenty-third street during the strike," said an Interborough electrician, "I thought all the newspaper reporters in the city were on the scene in ten minutes. I counted sixty men with police cards in their hats.

"Later I discovered that while there were perhaps swenty newspaper men there, few if any of them were their police cards in their hats. Of the remainder probably some were curiosity seekers with a right tuse the cards, but the great majority wer ambulance chasing lawyers collecting testi-mony for 'harrowing details' to be pre-sent d later in court and working up suits against the company.

"All through the strike the ambulance chasers were as alert as strikers' pickets, and it is hard to tell which were more dis-appointed at the small number of accidents. I don't know how the chasers procured police cards, but it seems to me that a recent investigation as to the sale of these cards ought to be renewed and prosecuted vigorously."

The Interborough company has found, as a result of its strike, that it takes more nerve to run an elevated than a subway train. That "up in the air" feeling rattles many experienced motormen who have never tried elevated work before, and after a few days they beg for an underground job. That is one reason why the old men are being transferred from the subway to the elevated.

It seems that the barber retains longer than other men who work with their bands the peculiarities of former training.

"They all show signs of what they used to do," said the oldest barber in the shop, to do," said the cidest parper in the shop,
"if they have ever been in any other kind of work before they take up this. Look at that fellow by the other chair. He used to be in the delicatessen business before he took this thing up. He never got over that first training. None of them do.
He still goes at a man who wants a shave with the same gesture he used when he started to cut a leberwurst."

News of the Japanese victories in the Far East is received with enthusiasm in the Japanese colony in the old Fourth ward. Japanese stewards, butlers and waiters who reside in the Japanese boardwaiters who reside in the Japanese boarding houses in the locality eagerly scan the newspapers for the latest news of the progress of their army. When the victories of Liaoving, Mukden and Tieling were reported the Japs became frenzied in their enthusiasm. Kegs of beer were put out on stands in front of the boarding houses and every research was invited to "here and every passerby was invited to "have one" with his Majesty the Emperor. Little Japanese flags are a common Lattle Japanese flags are a common household poserssion in Fourth ward homes. Irish, Italian, Germen, Greek and Spaniard—all of these go to make the population of the ward—like the little fellows from the island in the Pacific and they are with the Japa to a man.

of New York that have not yet been cleaned of the snow and ice remind me of?" said the school teacher. "Why, relief maps.
You will End in some of them v. thick coating of ice with higher ridges, cliff sided coating of ice with higher ridges, cliff sided along the edges where the ice has been dug out of the gutters, these thick places and elevations representing the plateaus and mountains. Then in the middle of the street where the ice has been more worn away are the valleys of the map, with little tortuous gulleys worn by water flowing from the melting ice, these being the watercourses as they would be shown on the map. We might find object lessons in physical geography right now in many of the streets of New York."

Health Commissioner Darlington tells this story of his experience as a tourist in

"I went into a restaurant and wanted to ask for two boiled eggs. Unfortunately I didn't know the word for eggs.

" 'Zwei,' I said. 'Zwei was?' asked the vaiue 35c. and 40c..

waiter. Then I began to cluck like a hen. waiter. Then I began to cluck like a hen.

"Zwei—cluck, cluck, cluck—cluck!"

'Gut, said the waiter.

"I waited and waited until I lost all patience. I wanted to ask if the hens that were to lay the eggs were being hatched, but I didn't know how to say it in German. So I arose to go, but the waiter forced me back into my chair. I thought I was about to be arrested. But finally the waiter brought in two steaming boiled chickens.

"I paid the bill, but I learned the word for eggs after that."

In a sidewalk showcase downtown is exhibited a handsome model yacht, which is "guaranteed to sail without a rudder," this yacht being without that adjunct commonly supposed to be indispensable to all vessels. In sailing model yachts the common practice is to adjust the rudder and then make it fast. The claim is made for this new model yacht that its sails are so correctly and nicely adjusted that it will sail a course without the need of a rudder and go faster without the check on its speed resulting from a rudder's drag.

"Socially," said a theatrical manager the other day, "the stage is becoming a cosmos in little. A few days ago one of the dramatic schools graduated a young Canadian girl who is the daughter of a Lord Bishop and has precedence in her own country before every woman in Canada except the wife of the Governor-General. That young woman is going on the stage. We'll have Princesses of the blood next."

BENEFIT FOR MODJESKA

Suggested by Paderewski-Mme. Sembrich Asked to Assist.

With the Holland benefit barely over there comes the announcement of another benefit, planned by no less a person than Ignace Paderewski and intended as a testinonial to Helena Modjeska, who has been living in retirement for the last year.

M. Paderewski telegraphed to Chicago asking Mme. Sembrich to take part in the entertainment. M. Paderewski's idea is to entertainment. M. Paderewski's idea is to give the benefit on May 4 at the Metropolitan. Mme. Sembrich has telegraphed that her present plan is to sail on May 2, but that will be changed if possible. Both Mme. Sembrich and M. Paderewski are compatriots of Mme. Modjeska, in addition to being her personal friends. M. Paderewski, who was in the West at the time of the Christmas holidays, spent the week at Mme. Modjeska's ranch in California. It was not known that the actress was in need and the announcement of M. Paderewski's intention has created great astonerewski's intention has created great aston-ishment. Mme. Modješka has during her career here made a fortune and only re-career here made a fortune, and only recently she has received enormous offers for appearances in vaudeville. She has steadily refused these, however.

Mme. Modjeska has not acted for the last year and a half and made her last appearances in the West. She has spent two years recently in her own country and was allowed to act in some of the Polish cities of Austria and Germany, but was forbidden to act in Russia on account of a speech she made during the world's fair in Chicago. Her last appearances in this city were made at the Fifth Avenue Theatre three years ago. three years ago.

Daniel Frohman, who was associated with Mme. Modjeska's management, has volun-teered to take the arrangements off M. Paderewski's shoulders.

FRENCH FOLKS TO GIVE A PLAY Planned to Help Along the Greenwich Heuse Settlement Work.

A French play will be performed shortly at the Carnegie Lyceum by the French residents of New York who live in the vicinity of Greenwich House, 26 Jones street, the centre of French settlement work in this city. The objects of the per-formance are to increase neighborhood in-terest in the work of Greenwich House and to bring about the formation of a permanent club of French people.

"Le Hulan" is the play that is to be given.

Mme. 'Tola Dorian, the author, has given the committee permission to produce it. The play is laid in a Danish village, near the Comment frontier. The German frontier. The hero is a German, the heroine a Dane, and the piece sets forth the peculiar conditions that arise during a war between the two nations on account of the friendship of the inhabitants of the of the friendship of the inhabitants of the borderlands.

The committee in charge of the affair includes Nicholas Murr.y Butler, John Brisben Walker, John La Farge, Richard Watson Gilder, J. J. Juseerand, Hamilton W. Mabie, Mrs. Poultney Bigelow, Mrs. George T. Bliss, Mrs. Clement A. Griscom, Jr., and Mrs. Herbert Parsons.

Concert for the Ecole Maternelle. The Ecole Maternelle is one of the benevolent branches of the work of the Alliance Française and is supported by that organization. A concert in aid of the school will be given to-night at the residence of Mme. Pollfeme by a number of well known singers. The Consul-General of France has signified his intention of attending. Tickets may be bought at the door. Banold, Constable & ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE THAT ON MONDAY, MARCH 27, WILL BE SHOWN IMPORTATIONS OF HIGH NOVELTIES AND STAPLE ARTICLES, MANY BEING CONFINED TO US, COMPRISING

Lyons Silks and Satins. White Silks and Satins for Wedding Gowns. Novelties for Bridesmaids' Dresses.

> FRENCH AND ENGLISH DRESS FABRICS. CLOTHS AND TAILOR SUITINGS. EMBROIDERIES, TRIMMINGS.

ROBES (unmade) of Embroidered Batiste and Linen, Hand Embroidered Linen and Lace Coats and Bolero Jackets.

NOVELTY LACES, consisting of Point Gaze, Pompadour, Irish Point, Point Barabbas, Point Baranoff, Point Petit Russe, Mechlin, Spanish, Valenciennes and Chantilly, in Edgings, Insertings, Flouncings and Allovers to match.

HOSIERY AND UNDERWEAR of Silk, Cashmere and Liele Thread DENT'S, FOWNE'S AND COURVOISIER GLOVES. LEATHER NOVELTIES, PARASOLS, NECKWEAR, HANDKERCHIEFS, RIBBONS, VEILINGS. HOUSEHOLD AND DECORATIVE LINENS Especially suitable for wedding and Easter Gifts; LINGERIE, FRENCH CORSETS, TEA GOWNS, MATINEES, PEIGNOIRS, TAILORMADE SUITS, COSTUMES AND WRAPS, HAND EMBROIDERED LINGERIE AND LACE WAISTS, MISSES' AND CHILDREN'S GARMENTS.

Specials Monday, March 27, HAND EMBROIDERED BUTCHER LINEN ROBES (unmade) at prices ranging from......14.00 to 34.00

One-third under regular prices-

Women's Furnishings.

DRESSING SACQUES, of India Silk or Albatross, lace trimmed, pink, blue, white, black	.0
LONG KIMONOS of Albatross, variety of colors, ribbon border 5.	0
PETTICOATS OF WHITE LAWN.
Embroidered or lace trimmed flounce	0
NIGHT ROBES of fine Nainsook, variety of styles,
Lace or Embroidery yokes 2.	0
CORSETS of fine Coutil, new model,
straight front	0
Q \ Q Q Q.

Broadway & 19th Street

IN SOCIETY.

The Riding Club was a centre of attraction for the smart folks last night and from Wednesday to Saturday many will go to the Clermont Avenue Rink, Brooklyn, for the bench show of the Long Island for the bench show of the Long Island Kennel Club. The tennis players assemble in force at the St. Nicholas Rink on Mon-days, where the games are under the auspices of Mrs. Barger Wallach. On Saturdays badminton is the thing.

Miss Helen Cutting, whose wedding with Lucius K. Wilmerding, Jr., is set for to-morrow afternoon, is to wear a costume of white satin, with point lace, chiffon and orange blossoms. St. George's Church, Stuyvesant Square, is sure to be Church, Stuyvesant Square, is sure to be crowded with bridal guests at the time. Bishop Greer will perform the ceremony at 3 o'clock and the bride will be given away by her father, R. Fulton Cutting. Mr. Wilmerding will be attended by R. Bayard Cutting, brother of the bride as best man and among his ushers will be the Messrs. Harris, Coster Wilmerding, Edward Marvin. William Fitzhugh Whitchouse, Richard Wharton and Edmund Pendleton Rogers.

Miss Cutting will be the first of the spring brides to follow the British fashion of having many bridesmalds. She will have but away all summer ten, though, while twelve is the accepted number for smart English weddings. Miss Cutting was herself one of the bridesmaids at the recent Roosevelt-Roosevelt marriage. Her attendants will include Miss Alice Roosevelt; her sister, Miss Elizabeth Cutting, a débutante of this past season; her cousins, the Misses Olivia Cutting and Ruth Cutting; Muriel Delano Robbins, Violet Cruger, Jessie Sloane, Caroline Drayton, Caroline Wilnerding, sister of the bridegroom, and Gwendolyn Burden. After the church ceremony Mr. and Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting will give a reception at their home, Madison avenue and Sixty-seventh street.

The bridesmaids will wear pink chiffon, with pink hats, and will carry pink flowers. with pink hats, and will carry pink howers, the bridal color scheme being pink, white and green. Miss Alice Roosevelt has already served as bridesmaid a number of times, among other occasions at the Rob-inson-Roosevelt, Geelet-Whelen and Roose-velt-Roosevelt weddings. Miss Robbins also attended on the latter occasion. Miss Drawton assisted in London at the wedding. rayton assisted in London at the wedding Drayton assisted in London at the wedding of her cousin, Pauline Astor, with Capt. Spender Clay, and quite recently at the marriage of her brother Henry Coleman Drayton with Miss Constance Knower. Miss Muriel Delano Robbins was one of the Roosevelt-Roosevelt bridesmaids, and Miss Gwendolyn Burden assisted Miss Florence Twombly at her marriage with William A. M. Burden.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt are to be the guests during Easter week of President Roosevelt, their relative, and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House, and are expected to be of the bridal guests to-morrow at the Wilmerding-Cutting marriage. They have selected an apartment at the Webster, 40 West Forty-fifth street, and may go abroad later on for Lady Oxford, who has one of the fine nouses in Bruton street, London, will be among the entertainers of the season. She is due to arrive here to-morrow, and will be the recipient of much attention. She brings her daughter, Lady Dorothy Walpole, an only child. Lady Oxford, who was Miss Louise Corbin, is a handsome matron. Her father, D. C. Corbin, has been visiting her in London. He is a brother of the late Austin Corbin, has been visiting to the late Austin Corbin, has been visiting to the late Austin Corbin, has been visiting Corbin, has his home. Austin Corbin, has his home

James Henry Smith will probably have his coach out in the annual parade of the Coaching Club on May 6, as he has decided not to go to England until May 16. He is likely, also, to be a guest when the Ladies'
Four in Hand Club has its annual drive on April 20. From now on until he sails Mr.
Smith will give week end parties at his fuxedo cottage and dinners at his home

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lyman Short of 20 West Thirty-seventh street gave a dinner on Monday night, and on Tuesday Mr.

ropent solarely state a salar decator

At the home of Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, 11 East Sixty-eighth street, Mrs. Waldo Richards will give the second of her three readings to morrow afteracon at 3:20 o'clock. Her selections will be from Emerson and Lowell. The last recital, on April 3, will also be given at Mrs. Alexander's, when Whittier and Holmes will be the Lady Herbert was among those who sailed on Wednesday for England, where are her two sons, one at Eton and the other preparing to go there. Eliot Gregory, who sailed on the same day, is on his annual trip, and Mr. and Mrs. W. Moore Robinson and Miss Nelda Robinson, also on the Savoie, are returning to their home in Paris after their first visit here in years. They have been with Mr. Robinson's mother, Mrs. J. Hood Wright, who introduced Miss Robinson. Miss Riggs, another de-butante of the winter, sailed with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karrick Riggs, for

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Amsinck will take possession this week of their town home, 25 East Forty-seventh street. This belongs to Mrs. Amsinck. Mr. and Mrs. Amsinck will sail for Europe on April 26 and remain

There was a full attendance of members esterday afternoon at the meeting of the Badminton Club, held in the armory of the Badminton Club, held in the armory of the Twelfth Regiment. The tournament for the silver cups presented by Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster and the club for singles is on for April. At the tea table the patronesses, Mrs. William Rhinelander, Mrs. George R. Dyer, Mrs. Frederic Sheldon, Mrs. Walter Lispenard Suydam, Mrs. Dallas Bache Pratt, Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster, Mrs. Henry C. Emmet, were in evidence.

Mrs. Vanderbilt will probably do considerable entertaining during the post-Easter season, and in the summer at Newport, now that her daughter, Miss Vanderbilt, is out. Mrs. Vanderbilt has recently become a member of the Ladies' Four-in-Hand Club, which her cousins, Mrs. William A. M. Burden, née Twombly, and Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb, joined some seasons ago. Other members are Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Miss Kate Cary, Mrs. Arthur Iselin, Mrs. William Goadby Loew, Miss Adelaide Randolph, Mrs. Charles Chapin, Mrs. Eugene Van Rensselaer Thayer, Jr., Miss Evelyn Sloane, Miss Louise Walker Gulliver, Miss Angelica Gerry, Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair, Miss Cornelia Bryce and Miss Mary Harriman. The club will have its annual parade on Saturday in Easter week. out. Mrs. Vanderbilt has recently become

Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs and her young son, Hermann Oelrichs, Jr., have gone abroad at last and the house at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street is so boarded up that Mrs. Oelrichs will go directly to Newport on her return in June. Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., are awaiting her arrival on the other side, but will soon

Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer are due to arrive here next Friday on the White Star Line steamer Celtic, after a winter in Egypt Mr. Speyer's health is said to have improved. Mrs. Flora Bigelow Dodge, who has been the guest recently of Lord and Lady Suffolk at their country place in England, is due to arrive home in Boston to-day on the Cymric. She will remain there to pass the Easter holidays with her son at school. her son at school.

Henry White, the new Ambassador to Italy, and his daughter, Mies Muriel White, sailed for England early in the week. Miss White, who has many relatives there, has lived practically all her days in England. Mr. White and Miss White were at the Somerset, Boston, for a few days after attending the inauguration at Washington. Henry White, Jr., is now at Harvard University.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruthven Pratt having rented their Newport place, Arleigh, on Bellevue avenue, will no doubt remain abroad all summer. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehr, who will remain in Rome for the Easter celebrations, occupied the cottage

On Tuesday, April 4, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Oliver of Pittsburg will sail for and Mrs. Maurice Dwight Collier gave | Europe for a short visit to their son-in-law especially.

Neckwear

For Misses, Boys and Children. possessing individuality and style.

Fancy Turnover Collars, various embroid-Stock Collars, white butcher linen, detachable silk stock in various colors, as illustration.....50c Linen Stocks, embroidered with silk fourin-hand in various colors69c Hand-Embroidered Linen Stocks, fancy design and fagot stitched edge. 75c. & $1.25 Heavy Linen Collar and Cuff Sets with Silk Sailor Handkerchiefs, all colors.....$1.35 For Boys. Buster Bows, all colors......25c Bandless and Band Bows, fancy colors......25c Shield Teck Tie, fancy and plain colors......39c. & 48c French Four-in-Hands, pretty figures and plain colors....39c. & 48c Bat Wing Ties, silks of various designs................39c For Children. Linen Collars to be worn with Buster Brown or Eton Suits, 15c. Pique Collar and Cuff Sets......40c Lace Collars.....$1.35, $1.75, $2.50 & $3.50

60-62 West 23d Street.

Banold, Constable Co

French and English makes, handsome designs and colorings, suitable for Cottage Draperies, Slip Covers and Furniture covering. Regularly 40c. and 60c. per yard 25c and 35c

FINE RUFFLED MUSLIN CURTAINS,

Artistic Floor Coverings For Summer Homes. New Selections. GRASS RUGS, 9x12..... 8.00 MISSION RUGS, pink, blue, green, 9x12......25.00

FIBRE RUGS, 9x12......10.50 WILTON, AXMINSTER, BRUSSELS, SMYRNA AND INGRAIN.

> Domestic Rugs IN ALL SIZES.

Japanese and Chinese Straw Mattings

Upholstery Fabrics

FOR SUMMER FURNISHINGS. NEW IMPORTATIONS OF ENGLISH AND FRENCH CRETONNES, CHINTZES AND LINENS, DIMITIES, LIBERTY GAUZE, PORTIERES, PORCH PILLOWS, TABLE COVERS, AWNINGS AND WINDOW SHADES,

MATTRESSES AND BEDDING. Designs and Estimates submitted on request for entire furnishing of Summer Homes, Hotels, Clubs, Yachts and Steamships. Broadway & 19th Street.

NEW YORK BOTTLING CO.'S CLUDIN-RAYNER-BOLEN & BYRNE High Grade GINGER ALE and OTHER Carbonated

THIRST OUENCHERS EQUAL TO IMPORTED. 40 YEARS' TEST. RECENT PAINTINGS BY

REMINGTON

NOÉ GALLERIES Between 84th and 35th 8ts. 368 5th Ave.,

Alfred Dusmet de Smours at Naples Cards are here for the wedding to-morrow at Providence, R. I., of Tenny Dunnell. son of Mrs. W. W. Dunnell of this city, and

and daughter, the Marquis and Marquise

Miss Edith B rgess, to take place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Talbot Richmond. Archibald S. Alexander will give his bachelor dinner next Saturday night, April 1, at Delmonico's, when his guests will include the attendants for his wedding on April 8 to Miss Helen Tracy Barney at St. Bartholomew's Church.

The next meeting of the Thursday Evening Club will be on April 13. Last Thursday night the residence of Mrs. Robert W. de Forest, at 7 Washington Square, North, was the gathering place.

Stuart, are to have a Lenten wedding on Wednesday, April 12. The ceremony will Wednesday, April 12. The ceremony will be performed at 12:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John E. Ogden, $45 Lexington avenue, by the Rev. Dr. Harris Ely Adriance. The bride will be assisted by two little nieces, Ruth Ogden and Lillian Dickerson, as flower girls. The bridegroom has not yet selected his attend-ants.

The Duke of Newcastle is likely to arrive this week or next. He has now for several seasons passed more than half the 'a' in New York, the climate here suiting him

Landerson to the cate bir we call how exercise and and a series and and real cate and and

ORIENTAL RUGS 35 Pieces Very Rare Antiques.

Kazaks, Khurdistans and Mossouls of the 16th and 17th century; most beautiful designs and colorings; they are rich ART PIECES; in various sizes. Prices range from $25.00 to $95.00 each.

HAND-MADE

Persian Rugs.

ASPECIAL LOT—Slightly imperied: a rare opportunity to tain them AT HALF VALUE... Sizes average 2.6 to 8 by 4 to 6.6 ft.; values $10.00 to $12.00, at SHEPPARD KNAPP & CO

Wants $450 for Falling Into Amelia Bingham's Coal Hole.

A suit has been brought in the Supreme Court by John E. Simpson to recover $450 damages from Amelia Bingham, the actress, for injuries which Simpson says he sustained through falling into the coal hole in front of her house at 40 East Thirty-first street. Simpson says that in slipping on the coal hole cover, which was loose, he sprained his ankle and suffered a nervous shock.

> No Breakfast Table complete without

The Most Nutritious